

(L. to r.) Jennifer Gaffney, Jon Watts and Amanda Stebbins, O.D., make customer care and education p

C oming from a family of medical professionals, Amanda Stebbins, O.D.,

“I was blind as a bat,” Stebbins said, jokingly. “When my vision was first corrected, I remember the great

Stebbins, who owns and operates The Spectacle Shoppe in the Rialto, graduated with honors from Wak

during her internship in ocular disease and pathology at the Veterans Affairs Outpatient Clinic in Viera, F

Eye Care Dedicated to Health & Comfort

Written by Southwest Orlando Bulletin Staff

According to Stebbins, the success of her practice is the result of a cohesive team approach. The moment

“It is a priority to me to make sure our patients have an overall great experience,” he said.

Stebbins conducts comprehensive eye exams with an emphasis on patient education. Typically, exams

“When my patients leave, I want to make sure they know exactly what we did and why,” Stebbins said.

If vision correction is necessary, the patient will then see Jennifer Gaffney, who is an optical consultant v

“I’m completely honest with people and don’t hesitate to tell them if I think the frames look good on them

Gaffney stocks a wide variety of frames, from traditional to trendy designers such as Montblanc, Sama E

“I don’t believe in high-pressure sells; I want people to feel comfortable,” she said.

Patients also can opt for contacts at The Spectacle Shoppe. Before recommending a specific type, Steb

In addition to routine exams, Stebbins is able to treat a variety of ocular diseases, prescribe topical med

“We do everything here, with the exception of surgery,” she said.

For that, she refers her patients to specialists; however, Stebbins provides pre- and post-operative care.

The Spectacle Shoppe is a family-friendly practice. In fact, Stebbins encourages parents to have their ch

Of particular interest to Stebbins is the treatment of dry eyes. She has completed extensive educational

Serving patients to the best of their abilities is the main goal of Stebbins and her staff at The Spectacle S

“We think what sets us apart is that we want to be here,” Gaffney said. “We really enjoy our jobs and hel

Eye Care Dedicated to Health & Comfort

Written by Southwest Orlando Bulletin Staff

“We treat our patients like we would want to be treated — with courtesy and respect,” Watts added.

“We had a patient who had severely bad vision and had lived with it for more than 10 years without having

The Spectacle Shoppe www.spectacleshoppe.com Site # 1947335 W. Sand Lake Road in Orlando
